Literary Rights

Literary rights were not granted to Wichita State University. When permission is granted to examine manuscripts, it is not an authorization to publish them. Manuscripts cannot be used for publication without regard for common law literary rights, copyright laws and the laws of libel. It is the responsibility of the researcher and his/her publisher to obtain permission to publish. Scholars and students who eventually plan to have their work published are urged to make inquiry regarding overall restrictions on publication before initial research.

Content Note

Audiotaped interviews conducted for Jim Sherow's master's thesis in history from Wichita State University comprise this collection. The interviews relate the history of Langdon, a small Kansas town that peaked in 1912 and declined between 1920 and 1950. Representing only a fraction of those conducted for the 1978 thesis, Langdon, Kansas: The Aging of a Rural Town, the three interviews in this collection provide a feeling for the life and times in Langdon from the late 1800s to the 1970s.
